SPEAK AND EXPRESS

(I)

Gita : Mohit, please show me your Mathematics homework notebook. I couldn't solve one of the sums.

Mohit : No, I won't show you my home work notebook. You should do it yourself.

Deepa : Mohit, that's not nice. Gita only wants to find out where she made the mistake. I don't think she wants to copy your home work.

Deepa : Gita, if you want, you can have a look at my notebook.

Gita : Thanks, Deepa.

(II)

Mohit : Raju, what have you brought for lunch today?

Raju : I have brought an apple and vegetable patties.

Amit : And, I have brought a banana and potato cutlets.

Mohit : I have brought some biscuits and an orange. Shall we share our lunch?

Raju : Oh yes, Mohit. That would be great.

(The teacher enters the class)

Students : Good morning, Madam.

Teacher : Good morning, children. Please take your seats. Have you all done your homework?

Students : (Collectively) Yes, Madam.

Teacher : Those who have not done their work, may please raise their hands. So, it is the four of you. Well, you will have to complete your work during the recess period.

Students : (Four of them) Yes, Madam.

Teacher : You must submit the work before the school is over.

Students : (One of the four) Madam, whom should we submit it to?

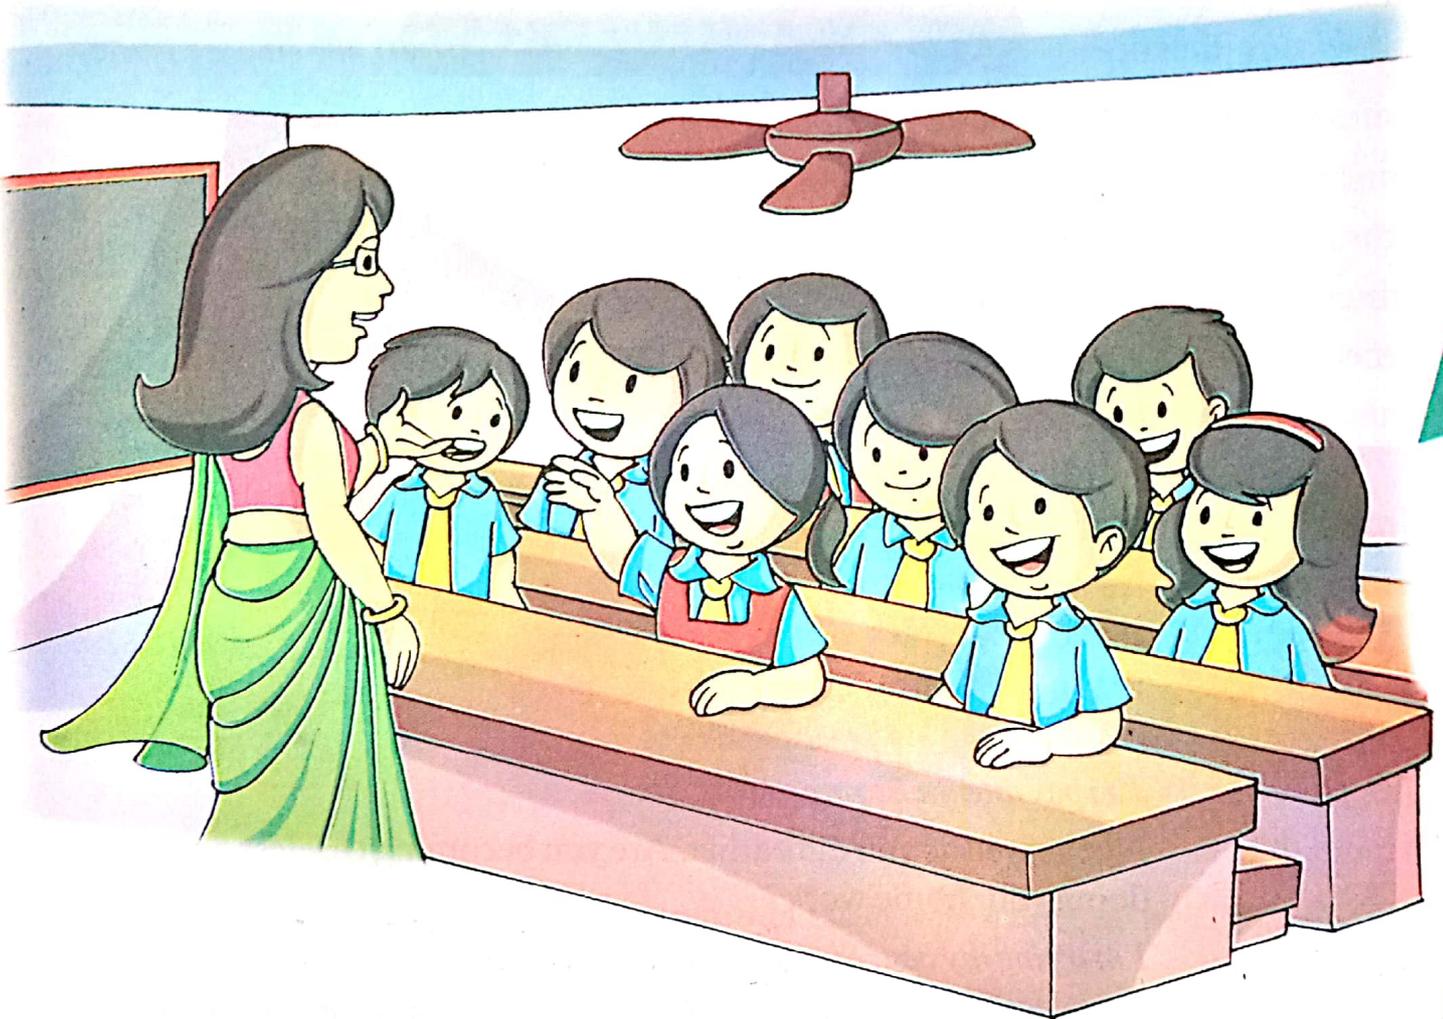

Teacher : Bring it all together to the staffroom.

Students : (Four of them) O.K. Madam.

Mohit : Madam, Gita wanted to copy my homework.

Deepa : No, Madam. It isn't true. Gita only wanted to check one of her sums where she went wrong.

Teacher : Well, Mohit. You shouldn't complain about Gita. I could have punished her for your wrong idea. Children, it is always good to help others if it doesn't harm.

Mohit : I'm sorry, Gita.

Geeta : Never mind, Mohit.

Teacher : Let's start with our next topic.
